PRELIMINARY REPORT ON THE PROFESSIONAL, TECHNICAL AND AFFILIATED COLLEGES
OF CANADA, 1924.

The number of Canadian colleges of which reports were obtained for the year 1923-1924 was 79. In addition to these were three colleges of which recent statistics have been obtained and one which is known to be in operation but of which no recent statistics have been obtainable. This brings the total number of colleges known to be in operation and as distinguished from "private elementary and secondary schools" up to 83. Of the eighty three colleges, 6 are agricultural, 2 technical, 2 law, 1 dental, 1 for pharmacy, 1 for veterinary science, 28 theological, 39 affiliated (of which 30 are separately grouped as classical), 1 school for higher commercial studies, 1 college of Art and 1 Military College. Such other institutions as are doing work only of elementary or high school grade, although sometimes known as "colleges", are reported under "private elementary or secondary schools". There are other institutions which do work of professional or university grade, such as the polytechnic school, the schools of Fine Arts, etc. in Montreal and Quebec. Although these in a sense are separate entities, they really form parts of universities and are consequently not listed separately, with the exception of the school for Higher Commercial Studies and Oka Agricultural College which are really parts of the university of Montreal; Ste Anne Agricultural College which forms a part of Laval university and Macdonald College which is a part of McGill university.

The term "Affiliated" colleges is not necessarily used in its strictly technical sense since properly nearly all the 83 colleges are affiliated in the ordinary sense. The term "Affiliated" in the following tables is applied to institutions devoted mainly to academic work leading to a degree in Arts. It is, of course, not possible to effect a complete separation between "affiliated" and the other colleges and the term is used merely provisionally. Table 3 shows fully the nature of the work done in each institution. It will be seen that some work in theology, for example, is done in "Affiliated" colleges and some work in Arts is done in theological colleges. Each college had to be listed under its main function.

There should be no misunderstanding as to the term "Secondary" in tables 4 and 5 as applied to Classical Colleges and certain other institutions in Quebec. "Secondary" education in Roman Catholic education in Quebec includes the four years in Arts as well as the high school work which in other colleges is classed as "preparatory courses". This applies especially to "Classical education" (see table 4). Since the data for these classical colleges are not given in the same detail as those for other colleges it should be mentioned that the number of regular Arts students in these in 1924 was 1,022 in the little seminaries and classical colleges affiliated to Laval and 1,146 in those affiliated to Montreal.

Table 1 of this report gives a fairly full list of colleges without regard to classification, with the numbers of staff and students. It shows that the number of students registered in 1924 was 21,307 excluding the registration of one institution which at present does the work only of a secondary technical school. Adding the registration of this institution and the latest statistics of three other colleges brings the approximately full registration of colleges up to 22,592.

Table 2 shows the classification of the colleges according to their main function and their registration by provinces. In this table it is to be seen that the 21,307 students in 1924 were distributed among the classes of colleges as follows: affiliated (including classical) colleges, 12,446; Agricultural, 3,460; theological, 2,037; technical, 823; law, 447; dental, pharmacy and veterinary, 751 and miscellaneous, 1,343.

Tables 3, 4, 5 and 6 show the registration of students by faculties according to the class of college. In this case it was not possible to give the distribution of all the 21,307 according to faculties in one table. Combining the data of the four tables a summary of registration by faculties may be given as follows: Courses preparatory to arts, etc. (high school grade work) 5,667; undergraduate courses in arts, pure science etc., 2,914; graduate courses in arts etc., 453; agriculture, 845; theology, 722; domestic science, 680; dentistry, 485; law, 447; commerce, 2,159, of whom 325 at least were in commercial courses of university grade; applied art 413; music 275; education 260; engineering 229; pharmacy 144; veterinary medicine 69; medicine 8; short courses 3,543 including 1,109 in short courses for teachers and 2,439 in short courses for others; correspondence courses 1,079; and all others 4,378 of whom 3,617 are known to be in Secondary technical courses and are not included in the total of 21,307 and 614 are known to have been in classical institutions but whose courses and grade of work are not known. The numbers of students thus given by courses amount to 21,658 instead of 21,307 and the difference of 351 is due to the fact that some students take more than one course. The relative numbers in the different courses have no great significance since certain courses are taken mainly at the universities of which many of the colleges are mere adjuncts. The true relationship between the numbers in courses will be shown in the next report combining the data of universities and colleges. It will be seen in that report that the great bulk of students in preparatory courses in universities and colleges are taking these courses at the colleges although they are also included with the registration of the universities.

Table 8 shows the financial statistics of the colleges with the exception of the classical colleges and the superior independent institutions in Quebec certain financial statistics of these being given in tables 4 and 6. It is noticeable that about one half the income of the other colleges consists of government grants. This proportion is very misleading and it is mentioned merely to prevent the misconception which would arise in the mind of one reading only the items in the "Grand Total". Practically all the government grants are confined to state controlled and other technical institutions such as agricultural, technical, commercial etc. colleges. Deducting the figures of these institutions and leaving only the figures of theological and affiliated institutions which comprise the great bulk of the colleges it is seen that out of a total income of $687,410 only $1,200 was in government and municipal grants, while $139,366 was in investments, $187,835 in fees and $359,009 in other sources such as congregational voluntary support of theological colleges etc. It is suggested therefore that in this financial table which shows the statistics of individual institutions and is given for that purpose only, grand total figures are of no value without a careful reading of the remainder of the table. Another table showing the financial statistics by class of institutions will be given in its proper place, the combined report of universities and colleges.

OF CANADA, 1925.

The number of Canadian colleges of which statistics are given in the following table is 82. In addition to these there are shown to be in operation 2 colleges of which statistics have not been obtained and one other which is included elsewhere bringing the total up to 84.

Table 1 shows that the number on the staff of colleges was 1,829; and of students as 21,367. Table 2, shows the number of students by type of college as follows:

|  |    |               |       |           |
|--|----|---------------|-------|-----------|
| Agricultural   | 6  | institutions, | 3,792 | students. |
| Technical  | 2  | "             | 1,078 | "         |
| Law  | 2  | "             | 387   | "         |
| Dental, Pharmacy andVeterinary                         | 3  | "             | 687   | "         |
| Theological  | 26 | "             | 1,690 | "         |
| Affiliated for Arts, Etc.                                  | 9  | "             | 2,395 | "         |
| Classical of which most areaffiliated for arts.        | 31 | "             | 9,904 | "         |
| Miscellaneous includingCommercial, Art andMilitary | 3  | "             | 1,434 | "         |

With the possible exceptions of two colleges which are usually included with technical schools, viz. the Institute of Technology and Art and Ontario College of Art these are all what is usually considered senior colleges. In addition there are several junior colleges doing two years work in Arts. These have come into existence as junior colleges only recently and have not as yet been listed, their statistics having hitherto been included with those of private elementary and secondary schools.

Tables 3, 4 5 and 6 show the number of students by faculties, it being impossible to show all the different kinds of institutions on a strictly comparable basis in one table. A summary of these four tables show 1,256 students in preparatory courses, 1,005 undergraduates in Arts, 247 graduate students, 16 in medicine (medical missionaries in the theological colleges) 235 Engineering and Applied Science, 225 in Music, 303 in Theology, 414 in Commerce, 387 in Law, 144 in Pharmacy, 374 in Dentistry, 900 in Agriculture, 256 in Education, 637 in Household Science, 63 in Veterinary Science, 3,395 in short courses, 1,457 in correspondence courses and 5,453 in All Others. Some of the students in the last three courses were not included in the total of 21,367 mentioned above since the nature of their work is more properly included under secondary technical education. A rough summary in Table 7 shows 1,256 in preparatory courses, 5,533 in regular courses, 1,457 in correspondence courses and 3,395 in short courses, some of the students being shown in more than one course,

Table 8 shows the number of students attending colleges outside their province of residence. Of 963 students thus classified 251 were from outside of Canada. The chief purpose of the table was to ascertain the number in colleges from the provinces where few or no colleges were situated. The table shows that 21 out of the 963 were from Prince Edward Island and 145 from New Brunswick most of the latter being in colleges in Nova Scotia. The Technical and Agricultural colleges, especially the Engineering faculty of the former in Nova Scotia, are used in common by the three maritime provinces, the practice in Mt. Allison and the Nova Scotia universities being that the engineering students complete two years in Engineering in their university after which they are admitted to the Technical College.

Table 9 shows the total of 41 of the colleges (excluding the Classical and certain other colleges) as $3,495,224 of which $910,316 was endowments, $2,567,828 was the value of lands, & buildings, and $17,000 was the value of other property. The income was $1,314,106. It will be noticed that the largest item of this income was

Government aid to technical and agricultural colleges, which are government institutions. If a reclassification of institutions is made separating institutions receiving large government aid from the others the figures for income are as follows:-

|                | Supported by /Government Aid | Not soSupported | Total      |
|----------------|----------------------------------|---------------------|------------|
| Investments    | $ 1,405                         | $ 378,057          | $ 379,462 |
| Government Aid | 1,056,050                        | 1,200               | 1,057,462  |
| Fees           | 323,200                          | 440,396             | 763,596    |
| Other Sources  | 120,861                          | 596,136             | 716,997    |
| Total          | 1,501,516                        | 1,427,044           | 2,928,560  |

It will be seen that in the case of 8 colleges the great part of the income is received from Government Aid, while in the remaining 33 colleges the income is fairly evenly distributed among investments, fees and miscellaneous sources.

3 Agricultural colleges, 1 technical, 1 higher commerce, 1 veterinary, 1 Art and 1 Military.

To the 1,904 in Quebec must be added 9,363 in Classical Colleges, 541 in independent classical schools and 409 in independent superior institutions, or 10,313 in all, making a total for Quebec of 12,277 and Canada 21,367. The types of courses could not be given for these in the same terms as shown in the table but may be seen by consulting Tables 4, 5 and 6. The students in the independent superior institutions may all be considered as in regular courses, or those in the classical colleges, 1,111 were included with the under-graduates in Arts in Laval and 1,220 with the under-graduates of Montreal. The balance of the 6,560, i.e. 4,229 in the classical course in these colleges presumably are in high school grades and would come in the Preparatory column of the above table. The 1,665 in commercial courses in these colleges might also be considered as high school grade students. The remainder of the 9,363 or 1,138 were in primary work. The grade of this work is not necessarily elementary since the distinction between "primary" and "secondary" is not the same as that between "elementary" and "secondary" in other provinces, e.g. students training as teachers in primary schools and to undergo examinations by the central board of examiners might be considered primary students although really doing work which would be considered high school work in other provinces. The division of courses in the independent classical schools is not given. They cannot all be considered in the Preparatory column since a certain number of them may have been taking the regular work in Arts. Leaving these out the full division into courses in the colleges in Canada could be roughly: Preparatory, 8,287; Regular, 8,272; Correspondence, 1,459; Short, 3,395 and all others 3,798, which last is not included in the total. This with the 541 in independent classical institutions and excluding duplicates between regular correspondence and short courses in three colleges and the total enrolment of other college totals 21,367.

Notes to Colleges of Canada: Financial Statistics, 1924-25.

Table 9.

- 1/ Includes $12,000 for board and lodging and $8,000 for tuition.
  - 2/ These items are taken from the Public Accounts of Ontario, 1924-25. The receipts from Govt. Grants entered are merely the difference between what is given as total expenses and the two items Fees and Other Sources; the item Other Sources includes the sale of Live Stock, Produce, etc. The items added for the total expenditure were the Salaries and Expenses for Ontario Agriculture College and of MacDonald College, Guelph.
  - 3/ This college has passed under the direction of the United Church of Canada.
  - 4/ Locker rentals and supplies sold.
  - 5/ Not known.
  - 6/ Paid in equal shares by Law Society and University.
  - 7/ Includes $8,976 for tuition and $15,192 for board.
- x A portion of the income is received from the college farm and is returned to the Government, so that strictly this portion should be deducted from the Government Grant. This explains the excess of the income over the expenditure.

Professional, Technical and Affiliated Colleges of Canada for the Academic Year ended June 30th, 1926.

In 1926 there were known to be in operation in Canada 83 Colleges after deducting four formerly listed institutions, - two having been recently absorbed by universities and the other two being of only high school rank. Of these 83, two have not reported for some time, but their statistics are largely included in the statistics of universities. The tables in this report, therefore, give the statistics of 4 agricultural, 1 technical, 1 commercial, 1 pharmacy, 1 veterinary, 1 military, 2 law, 30 theological and 42 affiliated including 31 classical colleges, little seminaries and independent non-subsidized classical schools in Quebec. The ladies' secondary schools are not listed but their figures are nearly all if not all included with the statistics of the universities of Laval, Montreal and Ottawa.

The total registration of these colleges in 1926, or according to the latest reported figures was 17,752 besides 3,039 elsewhere included with secondary technical schools. This registration included about 5,600 doing work of university standard, 5,200 work preparatory to matriculation and the remainder work which could be classified as neither of these including vacation courses, extension courses, evening courses, etc. Of the students of university standard, by far the largest group were in Arts, viz. 3,053. Theology, philosophy, medical and missionary courses and related subjects come next with 1,154 students. Agriculture had 450, Law 404, Pharmacy 144, Commerce 112, Veterinary Science 66 and Engineering 39. Practically all the students of university grade were full time students.

Table 1 of this report gives a list of the colleges with their date of formation and number of staff and students according to latest report. Table 2 gives summary of the registration classifying the students by sex and according as their courses are of university standard, matriculation or other than these. Table 3 classifies the full and part time students according as they were pre-matriculation, first degree, graduate or other. Table 4 shows the number of full and part time students by faculties. Table 5 gives the registration in vacation and short courses. Table 6 the number of students attending outside their provinces of residence. Table 7 contains the financial statistics of certain colleges.

1/ Presumably from this course 2,437 students in Arts have already been included with the students of Laval and Montreal universities. If we assume that these were regular Arts students and the balance of the 7,104 were pre-matriculation students, we have in the classical colleges 2,437 in work of university standard, 4,667 in matriculation courses and 2,608 in other courses. This information is thus in the same form as that obtained for the colleges of other provinces.
